CANNON HAD OATS IN HIS POCKET AND HAYSEED IN HAIR

Speaker Quoted in Congress to Prove He Is Fit for the Presidency.

BOOM ON ANNIVERSARY.

Boutell Repeats First Speech of "Uncle Joe" in the House and Tells Hit he Made.

years ago to-day Speaker Cannon delivered his first speech in the House of Representatives, and the anniversary was marked by a tribute to the Speaker | House. by Mr. Boutell, of Illinois, soon after performances.

The Congressman also seized the opportunity to been Mr. Cannon in a good, solid way for the Presidency. Mr. Boutell recalled the noted men the House at that time, whose friend-thip Mr. Cannon enjoyed, and, in referring to the Speaker's speech, said that these men were present and heard his yesterday afternoon. Her playing was romarks. Mr. Boutell said that Mr. Cannon, then thirty-six years old, spoke on a bill reducing rates of postage on books, for the carrying free of newspapers within the countries of their publication, and for the extension of the franking privilege, to public corres

Several extracts from the speech were read by the Congressman, who spoke of a gibe by a member directed at Mr. Cannon that "the gentleman must have oats in his pocket."

Mr. Boutell said that tumultous applause greeted Mr. Cannon's retort when he said: "I understand the gentleman. Yes, I have oats in my pocket and hayseed in my hair, and the western people generally are affected in the same way; and we expect that the seed, being good, will yield a good crop. I trust tenfold; and the sooner legislathin is had, not only as proposed by this bill, but in all other respects, as the people desire and equity and justice shall dictate, the better it will be in the ever they may reside."

"That spears is long run for all people in this country,

"That speech," said Mr. Boutell, "gave Mr. Cannon a position as one of the strong men in the House and won for him the respect of his colleagues in him the respect of his colleagues in both branches of Congress and of the leaders in official life."

the steady strides made by Mr. Cannon during his service as a member of the House, resulting in his election three times as Speaker, and in conclusion taking ferred upon him all the honors that are in their girt to bestow, single handed and alone. And the thousent that comes to my mind on this anniversary of our country colleagues first triumpin in this House, a triumph won in the interest of the workers of the country, is many this:
